

The proposed USF payment by WISPs will hurt the American public by restricting broadband access and making it costly. Also, schools, libraries and communities must be allowed to use the e-rate funds to obtain appropriate services from anywhere, without being shackled to the LECs.

It is high time the FCC acts in the interest of the American people and not the ILEC lobbyists. The actions and results of FCC in many cases amount to outright defrauding of the American public and a shame.
